

Episode 193: Billions of Euros/Dollars at Stake Re Personal Data Transfers - Half-Time In the Schrems Irish Litigation

Date : February 17, 2017

TechLaw 10 hosts Jonathan Armstrong and Eric Sinrod discuss legal issues related to information technology.

In this weeks Tech Law Ten Jonathan and Eric discussed the latest developments in the Schrems litigation in Ireland which could effect the way in which multinational corporations transfer data. The court has heard evidence filed on behalf of Facebook that restricting the ability to move personal data from the EU to the U.S. could negatively effect economic growth by between 118 and 190billion euros. Jonathan talked through what we had learnt at half time in this case.

TechLaw10 is a 10-minute audio podcast update from U.S. lawyer Eric Sinrod (Duane Morris) and UK lawyer Jonathan Armstrong \(Cordery\) where they share insights on developments where technology intersects with the law in the EU and the U.S. These well-known commentators are sought out in the media for their opinions on breaking news and developing trends. Whether you are in North America or Europe, now you can hear directly from them regarding the latest technology issues at home and across the pond.
