

Where Will The New Compliance Risks In Data Privacy And Bribery Live After Covid?

Date : May 18, 2021

On 26 May Jonathan Armstrong will be joining a panel hosted by LRN in a webinar to discuss compliance risks as we adapt to a changed world. Registration is free and details of the event are below:

Date: Wednesday, May 26, 2021

Time: 12:00pm – 1:00pm ET (5pm-6pm UK time)

Event Summary:

As organizations emerge from the pandemic and enter back into a now reshaped world, changes in the compliance risk landscape are already emerging.

- How has the pandemic affected bribery risks?
- What types of data risks will compliance teams need to consider?

All of this comes at a time when regulators are more engaged and there is much scrutiny around how data is being handled.

LRN's Chief Advisory Officer, Ty Francis MBE, will lead a panel discussion with Jonathan Armstrong, Partner at Cordery, and Kortney Nordrum, Chief Compliance Officer at Deluxe, exploring these questions.

The panel will identify key compliance risks dealing with bribery and data privacy and how organizations can navigate the new compliance risks associated around these issues.

You can find our more and register with LRN here <https://bit.ly/3onl1pe>