In this edition of Cordery Head to Head @ Home Cordery's Jonathan Armstrong talks to Jenny Radcliffe.

Jenny is known as "the People Hacker" and is a world-renowned expert on human behaviour. She is a go-to guest expert on the human element of security, scams and social engineering and has appeared on numerous television and radio shows, as well as online media and traditional press outlets. She was a hunter in Channel 4's successful "HUNTED" where she performed various OSINT and undercover roles and was seconded to the special operations unit of the show.

Jenny is also the host of the award winning podcast "The Human Factor" interviewing industry leaders, bloggers, experts and fellow social engineers and con-artists about all elements of security.

They talk about how Jenny first became involved in looking at risk and the defences of an organisation. They talk about current threats including phishing and cybersecurity and the rise of criminal activity during the pandemic. They also talk about the importance of human behaviour in dealing with those threats and the need for education on current threats. In addition they chat about immediacy in business and how criminals exploit that.
