

Episode 135 : The year ahead in TechLaw - privacy, security and lines blurring

Date : January 15, 2015

This week's podcast looks forward to what we can expect in technology law in 2015. Privacy and data security are likely to feature heavily in the coming year. There are predictions of more social media mistakes and there's a wildcard entry - legislation and litigation over emails and work life balance.

TechLaw10 is a 10-minute audio podcast update from U.S. lawyer Eric Sinrod (Duane Morris) and UK lawyer Jonathan Armstrong \(Cordery\) where they share insights on developments where technology intersects with the law in the EU and the U.S. These well-known commentators are sought out in the media for their opinions on breaking news and developing trends. Whether you are in North America or Europe, now you can hear directly from them regarding the latest technology issues at home and across the pond.
