

Episode 210: Disruptive Technology Start-Ups & The Need For Legal Compliance

Date : October 30, 2017

TechLaw 10 hosts Jonathan Armstrong and Eric Sinrod discuss legal issues related to information technology.

In this podcast Jonathan and Eric look at recent disruptive technologies and whether they get it right in terms of investing in their legal and compliance obligations. Jonathan talks about his recent experiences with Uber where a short tweet of his experience was viewed by 6,000 and retweeted 58 times. Is this a sign of a deeper issue? Do disruptive businesses need to do more to ensure their long-term stability and value?

TechLaw10 is a 10-minute audio podcast update from U.S. lawyer Eric Sinrod (Duane Morris) and UK lawyer Jonathan Armstrong \(Cordery\) where they share insights on developments where technology intersects with the law in the EU and the U.S. These well-known commentators are sought out in the media for their opinions on breaking news and developing trends. Whether you are in North America or Europe, now you can hear directly from them regarding the latest technology issues at home and across the pond.
