

Episode 243: Should Consumers Share In Wealth Derived By Tech Companies From Personal Online Data?

Date : March 13, 2019

In this episode Eric and Jonathan look at plans in California to create a 'digital dividend' obliging tech companies to share their profits with people whose personal day-to-day data they use.

The plans are at an early stage and Eric and Jonathan discuss the implications and whether this should be left to the free-market rather than legislation.

TechLaw10 is a 10-minute audio podcast update from U.S. lawyer Eric Sinrod (Duane Morris) and UK lawyer Jonathan Armstrong \(Cordery\) where they share insights on developments where technology intersects with the law in the EU and the U.S. These well-known commentators are sought out in the media for their opinions on breaking news and developing trends.
