

Episode 249 - What To Do About Social Media When It Becomes Anti-Social?

Date : June 5, 2019

In this episode Jonathan and Eric look at the anti social nature of social channels and whether the courts will step in to police bad behaviour.

They look at a Spanish case involved the vlogger Kanjhua Ren who tricked a homeless person into eating an Oreo biscuit filled with toothpaste and received a prison sentence and an order restricting his social media activity as a result.

Will the law step in to the ensure people behave better on social media channels?

What are the consequences for business who use social media?

TechLaw10 is a 10-minute audio podcast update from U.S. lawyer Eric Sinrod (Duane Morris) and UK lawyer Jonathan Armstrong \(Cordery\) where they share insights on developments where technology intersects with the law in the EU and the U.S. These well-known commentators are sought out in the media for their opinions on breaking news and developing trends. Whether you are in North America or Europe, now you can hear directly from them regarding the latest technology issues at home and across the pond.