Welcome to the only roundtable podcast in compliance. In this episode, we end the year with the second of a two-part series on our fan favourite year-end wrap up on the state of compliance under the Trump Administration.

Tom and the panel have been following this topic since Trump was elected in 2016 and it is one of the most anticipated podcast releases for the year.

In this podcast, we have a triple serving of Sarah Hadden, Jonathan Armstrong and Mike Volkov with a potpourri of topics.

Rants and shout outs follow the commentary for this episode.

- Mike Volkov reviews the FCPA enforcement year. Volkov shouts out to the Justice Department's FCPA trial team which secured several guilty verdicts at year's end in individual prosecutions under the FCPA.
- Jonathan Armstrong discusses the year in anti-bribery enforcement from the UK perspective by reviewing the SFO's successes and failures. Armstrong shouts out to Sir Rod Stewart for a compliance related project.
- Sarah Hadden takes a look back over her first year as CCI Publisher and highlights some of the top features, stories, news items and new voices in compliance. She shouts out to James Bone and Columbia University's risk management survey.
